Director

Academic librarians are engaged primarily in professional practice, in providing a variety of services that assist the research of students, faculty, and other library users. In addition, they conduct research, publish works of scholarship, and make presentations at professional meetings.

Conference Proceedings

CLEMENS, Lawrence, Reference Librarian, Gibbs, P., and Shelton, M., "Information Literacy Competency and its Integration into the Engineering Curriculum," Proceedings of the American Society for Engineering Education, Zone 1 Meeting, West Point, NY, 6 April 2002. (CD-ROM)

With the expanding world of information, information literacy and its application to the research process remains a critical skill. This paper examines the Association of College and Research Libraries' (ACRL) Information Literacy Competency Standards and discusses why these standards are important in the engineering curriculum. The paper relates how the Information Literacy Standards are useful in the engineering education process and will assist in the "Outcomes Assessment" that is part of the ABET accreditation.
