COMMANDANT OF MIDSHIPMEN INSTRUCTION 1770.1

Subj: OPERATIONAL LOSS OF USNA GRADUATE RESPONSE PLAN

Encl: (1) Response plan execution timeline
(2) Quick reference guide for plan execution

1. Purpose. To implement response plan procedures in the event a Naval Academy graduate is killed during military operations.

2. Background. As midshipmen train to serve as officers in the operating forces, they should be made keenly aware when a Naval Academy graduate gives his or her life in service to the nation. Awareness and remembrance shall be timely and respectful. The designated individuals in paragraph (3) will execute this instruction's plan whenever a USNA graduate is killed in action or deemed lost during other operations (aircraft mishap, training casualty, etc). Final authority for execution of the plan in enclosure (1) will remain with the Commandant of Midshipmen.

3. Responsibilities.

a. Deputy Commandant of Midshipmen. The Deputy Commandant of Midshipmen shall ensure that information regarding a KIA or operational loss is quickly passed to the Commandant's Operational Loss Response Plan Action Officer. The Naval Academy Public Affairs Office and the Naval Academy Alumni Association will typically be the first offices to receive word of a graduate's death. Prompt communication and liaison between these offices and the Commandant's Staff is critical to this program's success.

b. Operational Loss Response Plan Action Officer. The 14th Company Officer will typically be designated as the action officer for this program and will have the following responsibilities:
