

Chemical and Engineering News
Volume 92 Issue 14 | pp. 48-49
Issue Date: April 7, 2014

Howdy From Dallas

Snapshots from the American Chemical Society national meeting

Photos are from the 246th ACS national meeting, which was held in Dallas on March 16–20.

Undergraduate chemistry majors from the U.S. Naval Academy pause en route to a poster session.

Credit: Marleen Weidner

From: <http://cen.acs.org/articles/92/i14/Howdy-Dallas.html>

In March 2014, 23 chemistry majors attended the National American Chemical Society (ACS) meeting in Dallas, TX. The students presented posters about their research and attended talks. Funding was provided by the Office of Naval Research (ONR) and the Defense Threat Reduction Agency (DTRA).