

NROTC

LEADERS IN THE MAKING

For 100 years, the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps has been one of our nation's foundries of U.S. Navy and Marine Corps Officers. NROTC allows students enrolled in the program to have the traditional college experience while pursuing a commission after graduation – receiving a top education from some of our nation's finest schools and universities while concurrently completing military training during the school year and summers. Our Midshipmen are leaders in the making, who have chosen to be a part of something greater than themselves. They will lead our Sailors and Marines on land as well as on, under, and above the sea, in space and in cyberspace.

Are you ready to lead?

Attend the School of Your Dreams... Debt Free

With NROTC units at more than 150 of the nation's top colleges, you have the freedom to find the right school and the right major for you. We believe that future officers should be passionate about what they study.

What will your mission be?

Will you master complex engineering to one day command a nuclear-powered submarine? Will you study to become a Navy Nurse, providing top-tier medical care to Sailors and Marines around the globe? Perhaps you'll dive into cybersecurity to defend our nation's digital frontiers, or prepare for medical school to serve as a Navy physician?

The subjects you master in college are the skills you will use to lead. Whatever your academic passion, NROTC will provide the leadership training to turn your degree into a rewarding career of service.

And while you focus on achieving your academic goals, we focus on removing the financial burden. The NROTC National Scholarship is an investment in your future, covering your full tuition and mandatory educational fees, plus an annual stipend for your books.

On top of that, you'll receive a tax-free monthly allowance for living expenses that goes directly to you and increases each year you are in the program:

- Freshman Year: $250 / month
- Sophomore Year: $300 / month
- Junior Year: $350 / month
- Senior Year: $400 / month

This financial support provides the incredible opportunity to graduate from a top university with zero student debt and a guaranteed career as a leader in the Navy or Marine Corps.

Get More Out of Your Summers!

Forget summer jobs and ordinary vacations. NROTC transforms your summer break into a paid adventure. Several weeks during your summer break, you'll step out of the classroom and into the fleet for hands-on training that tests your leadership and gives you a taste of your future.

You will:

- Stand on the decks of our mighty warships as they cut through the waves.
- Experience the silent world deep beneath the waves aboard our nuclear-powered submarines.
- Soar above the clouds in any one of our advanced military aircraft.
- Train in the field alongside elite U.S. Marines, mastering tactics and advanced weapons systems.

And while you're gaining priceless experience, we cover the costs. During summer training, you are on active duty status—your travel, lodging, and meals are fully paid for, and you earn a paycheck for your time.

More than Career... A Calling

Your graduation day is the starting line. While your friends are writing resumes, you'll be taking the oath of office. An NROTC commission is your ticket to a secure and rewarding career where you are given immediate trust and responsibility.

Leading Sailors and Marines is a privilege earned, not given. It is forged through discipline and a deep commitment to our Warrior Ethos—a code built on merit, unity, accountability, and the highest standards. If you prove you have what it takes to live by this code, an exciting future is waiting for you with a competitive salary, unparalleled benefits, and a clear path for advancement.
