

2017 Trident Scholar Prize

On May 25, 2017, at the US Naval Academy Prizes and Awards Ceremony, MIDN 1/C Christopher L. Panuski of the 28th Company was awarded the Class of 1979 Trident Scholar Prize. This award is presented to the Trident Scholar with the best Trident project of the year. MIDN 1/C Panuski's Trident project was entitled "Development of a Mechanically Mediated RF-to-Optical Transducer" and his advisers were Prof. Brian Jenkins and Prof. Deborah Mechtel from the Electrical and Computer Engineering Department, Prof. Carl Mungan and Prof. Nicholas Frigo from the Physics Department, and Dr. Marcel Pruessner from the Naval Research Laboratory.

Superintendent VADM Ted Carter, MIDN 1/C Christopher Panuski, CAPT Charles Dixon, USN (Ret.), representative from the Class of 1979, and Dean Andrew Phillips at the Prizes and Awards Ceremony.